

I am a Dad, they say

by Sara Fontacaba & Beatriz Galán

I AM A DAD, THEY SAY

PATERNITY WITHOUT HANG-UPS

BY SARA FONTACABA & BEATRIZ GALÁN

288 pages

Parenting

Rights of Five Mothers, Five Stories sold to: Corbaccio (Italia)

■ Many women will be very surprised when they read these pages

SYNOPSIS

What are Gabriel Masfurroll, Ramón Pellicer, Jorge Fernández, Fernando Morientes, Víctor Valdés, Màrius Serra, Durán i Lleida, Carlos Sobera, David Cantero like as dads?

This book brings together the testimonies of 36 well-known men, from different walks of life but who are all dads. Having just one child or several, having had them young or old, having planned them or by surprise ... How do these men see paternity? Here they talk openly about paternity, the role of men today and also about women.

ABOUT THE AUTHORS

Sara Fontacaba (Girona, 1969) is a business woman.

Beatriz Galán (Barcelona, 1974) is a philologist.

They met on a course of aquatic games for children. They are co-authors of Cinco madres, cinco historias (Five Mothers, Five Stories), a book about different experiences of maternity. Ponce (Barcelona, 1968) holds a Masters in Osteopathy and a Diploma in Physiotherapy. Diet and nutrition, homeopathy, traditional Chinese medicine and ayurveda and many other subjects make up his personal holistic vision of health. Founder of one of the main clinics specialised in Osteopathy in Barcelona. He gives classes on several courses and collaborates with the Centro de Alto Rendimiento (CAR) of Sant Cugat.